

Augmented Reality

Augmented Reality is a modern mobile solution to display location based information. Promet Source is considered a leader in this segment of mobile app development. We developed one of the first open source AR frameworks, PrAugmented Reality based on geolocation. Virtual tours, store locators and event navigation are just some solutions Augmented Reality can offer.

"Saying, 'do we need augmented reality?' is like saying 'do we need the internet?' It's an inevitable transition." -CNBC
